There's a Change Gonna Come...
The Body Marched Off Across the University

He had a red beard.

To the Editor:

Two hard-core Trot friends recognized Michigan campus to confer on the suspected.

in participatory-propaganda. The regulations were more liberal, and the rumor was that they had been gessevered away by a FBI/CIA agent. There was talk about forming a new convention delegate: he had a red beard.

After the NC was dismissed that night, the University of Michigan campus to confront the suspicious delegate, who had been trailed to his pad by some super-sleuth leftist with latent J. Edgar Hoover tendencies. The witch trial lasted but half a minute.

Arthur and Joe found and cleared the accused before the crowd of some 200 self-appointed inquisitors. This incident could easily be dismissed as some sort of a Provost prank; it did here a decided Happy Happening reedom about it. And I doubt many people took the action seriously.

Yet it does suggest a sub-rosa layer of distrust. This is particularly unfortunate for those in the past distinguished itself by its openness—both ideological and psychological. Perhaps more than anything else it has been this basic psychological openness, characteristic of the organization, which has been a source of its attractiveness.

If brother is going to accuse brother, then SDS is threatened. An even greater danger than our current substratum is the paranoia that the suspicion of such subversives may spread to those who wish to destroy SDS, then surely such fraternal suspicions are doing their work for them. Our own psychological hang-ups can erode the organization from within.

To the Editor of New Left Notes:

I'd like to briefly give my impressions of the convention. The body was a whole as unmoving as a city with an established authority of power in America and instead used slogans as a substitute for the difficult task of program formulation. In particular, people freely tossed around revolutionist rhetoric but did not consider how to organize for a long-term domestic resistance movement capable of blunting the American imperial thrust which would seem the most fruitful way to precipitate conditions in which radical change might be possible here.

In particular, questions of the following types were not considered, nor did answers to them seem to underlie the discussion:

1. What kinds of resistance will most hamper the war machine?
   a. Direct resistance (anti-war strikes in defense factories; sabotage; or what?)
   b. Indirect resistance (organizing a broad local issue in ways that force the system to use resources to co-opt or to suppress the demands, and thereby to divert them from the war effort)
   c. Should our organizing efforts be based on large class analysis of American society and thus try to organize self-conscious classes; or on an analysis of particularistic conflicts of their own that can be used as a basis for organizing "pockets of resistance" (and small movements trying to drive the military of camps) or what?
   d. Given an answer to 2, what does it imply for our strategy? (Considerations include who to reach out to, to get our message across to which groups to work with, and what styles of actions to take.)

4. Related to all the above points, where is the United States at, where is it going, and what does this imply for our strategy?

Our failure to deal seriously with these questions (rather than to adopt a cowboys-and Indians view of the world in which a revolutionary working class will come in the nick of time to rescue the world from the third world from the American Capitalist's attack) is inexcusable. Our camp­aigns may have the form of various causes, and even our inability to co-ordinate with the liberals, the black movement is in general a foreboding and co-opted at the same time, and union militancy is largely apolitical; we are not apparently too radical of American society as composed of large organizations and institutions with particularistic conflicts of their own that can be used as a basis for helping to organize these societies.

Brothers and Sisters,

You thought like this from the offices of the Alliance. Local SDSers are now working with the Alianza to form a group to do jobs on the jobs and 101 North Union St., Kennett Square, Pa, 19343 or call 215/444 -0 J.B.

We are hoping that the project will help that it can expand further into the middle-class sector of the community so that middle-class electoral politics types will get into direct actions against the Selective Service System, either at the local boards, the induction centers, or in the communities.

In terms of the Future, the West Side Project is seen as a summer organizing project. It will play an integral part in programs of freshman orientation and student radicalization at Columbia and City College, by being a vehicle to show new students how the system controls the lives of people, and the greater intensity of its control over non-white groups. Despite a general enough base can be established in the community, the level of draft-resistance, it might become possible to finally relate student protests at the University against complexity with the war to the people in the neighborhoods, and in doing street work with local Puerto Ricans, black, and, to a lesser extent, white workers, to try to get an effective voice in the community struggle against University expansion into, and control over, surrounding communities.

The American Friends Service Committee is sponsoring a farm labor program in Chouteau County, Nebraska, and will need a maximum of about 3000 people to work anywhere from one summer to the end of the growing season for a few black organizers, male or female, to develop social action organi­izations in the two or three definable black neighborhoods and volunteers who can speak Spanish well and have some knowledge of Puerto Rican culture.

The county, although it is located on 200 people make up the whole area, is noted for and sustained by its mushroom-growing industry. This crop has a peculiar growing season with the busy months being from May to June and summer being the off-season. There are a few large growers (100 employees) and many smaller ones. Borden Dairy Co. and Camp­bell's Soup Co. are somehow involved.

The people who do the picking and work in the four or five canneries can be divided into three distinct groups. First, in terms of numbers are Puerto Ricans, second are Afro-Americans, and third are an increasing community of Spanish­ speakers from Virginia and North Carolina. They usually live in shacks or trailers or on one large farm worker's patch where they live 10 to 13 hours a day, from $1,000 to $1,40 per month, have no insurance, no medical compensation, and are unionized.

We find our selves in trying times, brethbattle with bill collectors who are hamtering in to cut our in come in win­ to, and generally breathing down our snecks as we make valiant attempts to strive toward our goals and our revolution, each and every one of the bill finds its way into the "paid" file, and places even greater pressure to the corporate capitalist rappers. The movement has and will remain clear to the rich liberals "which side we're on," and consequently, the basis of the the value that it has in the world, as we are witnessing for our ieselves, has given us a schematic breakdown of where some of our money must evemally find its way on page 5. For those of you with a morbid curiosity and a rightfyl desire to know where the find that cash is going and why, there flows a rough outline in explaina­ tion:

The Woodside Organization TWO debt for past painting has been over our heads for quite some time — it was once much larger but now stands at $500. The reason that it goes at the top of the list and must now be faced post poned because of the n.o.'s interest in the n.o., I was informed that they had called us and threatened legal action if more of that cash is not paid within the month, V. sent them $256, bringing the debt down to the present $256. We will go to court that soon, (2) The composting equipment, with which we make up N.L.N and our literature, is still being constructed. Since one of the people at the n.o. find themselves able to deal with the company, who is knowledgeable about the equipment, we pay $500 a year to have all repairs done on the equipment and ship every time it needs to be repaired.
(3) The print shop and those who are working for N.L.N have made it clear that it is absolutely essential that we purchase a headliner, which strangely enough, is a machine that makes headlines. It has been done by hand in the past. While recognizing the dignity of manual labor, the n.o. was informed that it is much slower, considering the slave hours they work and our expanded pro­duction, and thus the present rate of production can not be met unless the headliner costs $900. (4) There is a back bill due on prints of N.L.N. We are getting a invoice for the present amount of $210. (5) Our phone bill is a mere pittance —we owe the bostads at AT&T about $500. (6) We are rented our office space at an incredibly low price by people who believe in addition to the rent that they the back rent of $500. (6) We are in arrears on our payment toward a lease/purchase agreement on a typewriter, and are paying for the compounding equipment — that comes to about $150.

On top of all of these, Woodside Owners have $3,300 in the bank, but much of that is in special accounts, the money having been given with the understanding that it would be used for particular purposes, i.e., $965 is in the Enough of the capitalists crap, necessar­ historical development. In this issue of NSA is an article by John Fuerst and Jeff Jones of the New York regional office concerning strategy for the approaching NSA Congress, fresh from resolution passed at the Convention. All people who are interested in attending the Congress should send a small fee so that we can be in touch and make coordinated plans (the delegation is not set at 25, though that should be the minimum — we may want all we can muster). At its meeting during the Congress we must plan final strategy plans. People should sub­

THE PLOT TO DESTROY BLACK MILITANCY

By Larry Neal

The Black Man in America is in grave danger. The inherent racism of this country is beginning to manifest itself in way essential to the elevation of the point of legality. We have seen Minister Muhammad Ali denied his rights to prison, a plot on the part of white media.
The inherent racism of this sums up to be an attack on black many of them controled by right wings organizations and individuals. All that we can do to be an an so-called Black Militancy—a plot on the part of District Attorney Mackell to make political gains and to lower the status of black citizens. And the so-called Negro leadership, the frame-up of segregation brothers and sisters in New York and Philadelphia is a most recent reminder that Black Americans is facing the hour of confrontation with the sick and dying beast that is white American culture. In the absence of a real crisis, the state of New York, the district attorney of Queens, probably acting on information from the FBI and New York City's Bureau of Special Services, has attempted to destroy in one blow the years of persuasion and strength that was the Revolutionary Action Movement. Further, in order to confuse the masses, they have also been implicated in the so-called RAM members of plotting the asassinations of Roy Wilkins and William Kunstler role, as a real danger. The plot of Resister: "If you don't get your hands of me, goddammit, I'll still get you booked and I'll have you look sick about it."

Resister: "We do our best to find out the dates when specific draft boards are in the area, and select the most dangerous timing. We're currently working with a few draft boards and getting involved with a few more."
For the first time in most of our memories, there's something boiling in this area. Several weeks ago, an announcement from the University of New Mexico SDS, a local group organizing for the primary purpose of raising consciousness on the campus, and a handful of unrelated radicals and religious dissenters decided to attempt to take over the entire campus by marching through the halls of the Albuquerque high schools, using the draft as a rallying issue. Owing to the embryonic nature of the movement in this area, we decided to employ an educational/informational/constitutional-right-of-classester's type of approach: our primary goal being to radicalize the "senseless" students in any way possible. We gathered together some literature about the draft, and copied a two-page handbill explaining alternatives to conscription and giving addresses, local and national, where more information could be obtained. We then decided to set up a "booth" (using two old cars and a piece of plywood) to display our literature and to hand out the leaflet across the street from High­land High, which lies (pun intended) in a middle class, "heights" area.

On Tuesday, May 15, six of us — Dr. Roger Anderson (a professor and SDS member), Dr. Horace Diaz (a profes­ sor and Mary Ann Kochand) (UNM students), and my wife Mary and I — turned up at the school well before classes were to let out. Due to lack of materials, (like plywood), we decided simply to the street and attempt to com­ municate verbally with them. We position­ ed ourselves facing the "student Demo­ lition Area" sign under a tree on the school grounds, expecting little more than a reaction.

When we had been there five to ten minutes, three school officials came marching out (it was an off day; they were in step) and asked us courteously if we had permission to be there; we replied we did not, and asked them to leave us the grounds. We asked where the principal was, and in a half hour or so (the line later proved to be nine and a half feet inside the curb). Not wanting any incidents at this stage of the game, we moved to the gutter of the street, of us beaten by a mob, and stopped all street traffic (we were in step), and asked us court­ savers a worse beating than we got due to our being something from it down on a scratch pad.

The conference had a very important impact on us, and we were, in true British understatement, happy to learn that our leaflets had reached on the campus due to their isolation or to their inability to see delegation should inform the National government. Our job is to present radical analysis and find themselves in the camps all over the country. The exciting thing about the NSA Congress is that most of the delegates are open to an a SDS analysis and find themselves in student government out of honest feelings to do what they can in reforming their campuses and America. These are some of the most radical, dedicated, and fervent students you could ever meet. They have not been reached on their campuses due to their involvement in any way possible and were stuck up at the school just before classes were to let out. Upon our release we moved to the gutter of the street, of us beaten by a mob, and stopped all street traffic (we were in step), and asked us court­ savers a worse beating than we got due to our being something from it down on a scratch pad.

The afternoon of May 12, peace demonstrators had confronted Washington Gov. Dan Evans' review of the University of Washington ROTC in Seattle. Most were Asian; Floyd is slight and blond, as all three testified, stocky and dark, of Asian descent; Floyd is a devout, respectable man, deeply religious. His testimony is utterly worthless: he is an ardent Scott, a piece of cloth is a piece of swastika. No one observed the flag being burned, or even saw it smoldering. Everyone in the small group surrounding him has heard the flag returned with the burned stick, told the approximate time of their departure and return; and he has heard the truth of the promoters.
